News for Faculty and Instructors: Penn State and COVID-19

This weekly email is designed to provide faculty and instructors with Penn State's pandemic-related news and updates. Watch for these emails on Fridays, with additional "special editions" delivered periodically. Previous faculty news digests are archived here. For current faculty guidance, resources, FAQ documents, and more, visit the "Back to State 2021-2022 Resources" webpage.

PUBLICATION NOTE

Throughout the pandemic, this Digest has been a means to communicate with faculty about pandemic-related items of importance. As COVID cases continue to decline, we find that we have less and less COVID news to share. We are pleased to announce that we plan to continue to publish this Digest periodically in order to communicate with you about news and items of interest to faculty. Undoubtedly you will find COVID news in this Digest from time to time, but you'll also find news about our faculty and resources to promote your success. You will notice changes to this Digest as we begin this transition.

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

- April 1 is the deadline for tenure-line faculty in the penultimate year of their probationary period to accept a one-year extension to their probationary period due to COVID-19. By completing the online form "Confirmation of Extension of the Probationary Period Due to COVID-19," the faculty member's probationary period will be extended by one year. Detailed information is available here.
- Faculty, staff, and academic administrators should have received an email on Wednesday, March 16 and a reminder on Wednesday, March 23 inviting them to participate in the AC14 annual review of academic administrators. You are invited to provide feedback to academic administrators in your unit with whom you have had the opportunity to work in the past year. More information about this process is available at https://www.vpfa.psu.edu/academic-administrativeevaluation-policy-ac14/. The deadline for responding to the survey is Wednesday, March 30.

LATEST NEWS OF IMPORTANCE TO FACULTY

 With high vaccination rates among students, faculty and staff, and most of Pennsylvania and the nation currently rated by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) as having low COVID-19 Community Levels, Penn State is adjusting its COVID-19 mitigation requirements related to face masks and required testing. Beginning Wednesday, March 23, face masks will be optional in all indoor spaces, except in areas where the law requires them to be worn. Starting March 26, Penn State will pause its required COVID-19 testing for students, faculty and staff.
